

WP11 - BEST PRACTICE DISSEMINATION REPORT

Please identify at least 1 'best' dissemination event you carried out and which you feel is innovative or could provide a good example for other partners and projects.

Please be aware that you should identify and describe a specific dissemination event you carried out and not just describe the typology of dissemination event which you consider relevant.

For the dissemination event, please specify:

- The place and date where and when it took place
- The target groups and the number of participants involved in the event
- The outcomes of the event
- Feedback received by the participant
- Follow up of the event
- The reasons why the event can be considered examples of best practice

Please do not answer the element above one by one, but make a description of the dissemination events taking into consideration all of them.

Please produce the description of the event in the third person. Please make sure the length of the report is between 200 – 400 words.

E.g.:

The best dissemination event carried out in Italy by Pixel was the presentation of the GrEnFin project in the framework of the New Perspective in Science Education International Conference (<https://conference.pixel-online.net/NPSE/>). The Conference brings together university professors, researchers, practitioners and project managers from all over the world to share findings, expertise and experience about innovative science teaching and learning methodologies, through on-site and on-line presentations, and social events. The conference took place on March 2021. In this edition the participants in the event were mainly representatives of universities, but there were also public authorities in charge of educations, companies and schools.

During the event a full presentation of the GrEnFin project was given explaining the activities, aims, achieved and expected results. A special focus was given to the presentation of the:

- Professional Module describing the 3 sections, the modality to access them and the benefits for the users.
- The Joint Master Degree in the Green Energy and Finance

The participants in the event were interested in the project and asked the possibility to be kept informed.

The event can be considered an example of best practice because a large number of project target group was addressed and this gave the possibility to spread the information about the project and enlarge the number of associated partners and subscribers to the project newsletter.
