

GrEnFIn Newsletter year 2022, number 5

Photovoltaics on the Rise in Spain, Key to the Energy Transition?

Just before the beginning of the summer, the "Global Renewable Energy Status Report 2022" was published by REN21. This document, the world's most important report on renewables, examines the progress of the energy transition every year. [...]

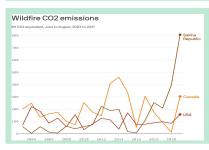

MORE

"Eco and Smart & Sustainable Islands" in the Aegean

In the island regions of Greece, mainly in the North and South Aegean islands, the "GR-eco Islands" initiative, with a budget of 100m €, of the Ministry of Environment and Energy has been undertaken in collaboration with DG Regio. [...]

MORE

Climate Change and Wildfires

The widespread wildfires that stretched across the Northern Hemisphere during the last two Summers set records for their carbon dioxide emissions, particularly in Siberia (see below the graph of CO2 emissions in the Sakha Republic) [...]

MORE

Satellite Data: a Promising Tool to Facilitate the Transparency and the Disclosure

Further steps and strategies to promote sustainable finance are taken in order to accelerate and meet both the European and international policy commitments primarily for the transition to a low carbon and greener economy. [...]

MORE

MonetaryPolicy: from Market Neutrality to Carbon Neutrality?

The European Central Bank has announced that it will adjust its existing unconventional monetary policy tools in order to take into account the carbon impact on the planet.

Starting from October 2022, the ECB will tilt the asset purchase programmes (APP) towards green sector. [...]

Sustainable Finance Development Roadmap - Poland Starts to Work on its Own Green Path

In recent years sustainable finance has been one of the most dynamic trends in financial markets. Globally, it is estimated that assets with a sustainable profile will account for a third of all global financial assets by the end of 2025. [...]

MORE

Project Number: 612408-EPP-1-2019-1-IT-EPPKA2-KA

This project has been funded with support from the European Commission. This newsletter reflects the views only of the author, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein.

